

Our country's polarization frightens me. That the polarization is allowed to be promoted by a private corporation's illegal use of public airwaves disturbs me greatly. I am one of the least cynical people I know. However, I have grave concerns about the future of our democracy when blatant electioneering is no longer considered out of bounds.

Sinclair's motives are obvious. They should be held accountable for their obligation to the public and the country; not just the segments of my country they want to represent.

It is time too for the FCC to take their responsibility as guardians of the public airwaves. We do need enforcement of existing media ownership rules, and perhaps strengthen them. Certainly not weaken them at a time so critical in this country.

Thank you your consideration of our this communication.
